August 2026

Welcome to the Month of August

Please join me in welcoming Torey Madura to her new role as a Monroe County 4-H Program Coordinator! Torey started her new Position on Monday, August 10, 2026.

Hi! I'm Torey Madura, and I'm looking forward to getting back to my roots in 4-H. I showed Llamas in Washtenaw County 4-H a LONG time ago! I live in Ann Arbor with my husband Nathaniel, our 19-year-old son Isaac (when he's home from Wayne State University), and our 17-year-old daughter Rosie. We have 2 dogs and 2 cats, so when you see me covered in pet hair, you'll know why. I love reading and socializing, and I have recently started Latch Hook projects in preparation for becoming an empty nester in a year. I look forward to meeting and working with everyone at MSU Extension!

Sincerely,
Jean A. Genaw
Monroe County Program Coordinator

STATEWIDE CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Building work readiness skills through 4-H

Beyond Ready

4-H programs create intentional opportunities for youth to build essential work readiness skills that prepare them for future success. Through structured, hands-on activities, young people practice communication, collaboration, problem solving and time management. Volunteers play a key role by guiding youth through meaningful tasks, helping them set goals, and encouraging personal responsibility and follow through.

As youth take on leadership roles, complete project work, and participate in real-world or simulated experiences, they begin to demonstrate growth in professionalism, work ethic and organizational skills. Every activity can help youth connect what they are learning in 4-H to what will be expected of them in the workplace.

How is your club helping youth build the skills they need to be work ready?

Going home: Biosecurity tips for animals that travel off the farm

Adapted from: https://www.canr.msu.edu/news/biosecurity_tips_for_animals_that_went_to_the_county_fair.

Animals that are exhibited at the county fair, jackpot shows, and other exhibitions are likely near and dear to their exhibitor's hearts. Michigan State University Extension offers these biosecurity steps exhibitors can take to protect their show animals and those that were left at home once the event has ended.

- Keep animals that left home separate from animals that did not for a minimum of 14 days. If at all possible, do not allow nose-to-nose contact and provide as much distance between animals.
- Disinfect all buckets, feeders, tools and footwear that left home.
- Throw away any feed or hay that left home.
- Always wear clean clothes and footwear. Boot coverings may be helpful when caring for isolated animals.
- Take care of animals that stayed home from the show first, and animals that were at the show second. Do not go back and forth between animals as this increases the risk of cross-contamination.
- Do not eat or drink in the barn.
- Observe animals daily for signs and symptoms of illness, such as:
 - Obvious pain or discomfort
 - Decrease in appetite and water intake
 - Fever
 - Lethargy
 - Diarrhea or changes in consistency in manure
 - Discharge from nasal cavity or eyes
 - Overall weakness

Care of animals after traveling is just as critical as their pre-show care. Exhibited animals were exposed to new animal populations and fair-goers, and will typically experience a lot of stress during their time away from home. By practicing these biosecurity steps, you can help keep all of your animals safe and healthy.

Daisy Branham- Michigan 4-H SYLC Council 2025-2027

Daisy Branham is 17 years old and going into her senior year at Airport High School. In our local program, Daisy has served 3 years on Monroe County 4-H Council, president of the Small Animal Association, held many leadership positions with Teen Ambassadors, and was a consultant on the 2026 Auction Committee. She can often be found helping in any of these areas and more. In 2025, Daisy was selected to represent Monroe County for a two year term on Michigan 4-H State Youth Leadership Council. Through SYLC, she has had the opportunity to help with exploration days planning, work with MSU extension staff at Michigan State Fair and bring new ideas from around the state back to Monroe County while sharing the wonderful things we're doing here.
